Interview with Vladimir Yuryevich Georgievsky, head of State Hydrological Institute of Roshydromet, doctor of geographical sciences. The interview covers the problem of influence of climate change on water resources in Russia and in the world and the researches of State Hydrological Institute in that sphere.

Read interview (only in Russian)